Profile

I have been performing in orchestras and chamber music groups for several years gaining experience in a variety of musical context. Collaboration with composers for movies and audiovisual music projects have further shaped my artistic approach. Working in different musical settings has helped me develop excellent collaborative skills and it made me quite versatile and therefore able to adapt naturally to diverse creative environments. In addition to my performance background, I have more than 5 years of teaching experience, working with students of various ages, both individually and in groups.
